JAPANESE STOWAWAY LEAVES THE SIBERIA AND BATTLES FOR HIS LIFE IN HARBOR WATERS

With hundreds of stowed and waterfront habitués as spectators, a Japanese stowaway escaped a strong guard maintained on board the Pacific Mail liner Siberia late yesterday afternoon, and following a fierce battle for life in the waters of the harbor, was finally brought to shore, restoratives being applied to bring the man back to consciousness.

Five Japanese who failed to secure transportation or passports were discovered on board the Siberia shortly after that vessel sailed from Yokohama for Honolulu.

The officers rounded up the men and they were confined to an improvised "brig."

While passing the prisoners some food yesterday afternoon one managed to slip by the attendant. He soon gained the forward deck of the vessel, and rushed to the starboard rail and leaped some twenty feet into the waters of the harbor.

A general alarm was sent up from the ship. The Siberia lay at Alakea wharf, where 1600 tons of oriental cargoes were being discharged. A large force of stevedores and laborers were immediately attracted by the riot call, and hastened to the esplanade, from which point the Japanese struggles in the water could be plainly viewed. That the man knew little or nothing about swimming, or even keeping afloat, was apparent.

Thoroughly frightened, the Japanese called lustily for assistance. Several Hawaiians plunged over the wall and were soon near the thoroughly exhausted stowaway.

However, when brought to the landing stage at Alakea slipway, the Japanese revived to an extent that he made a mad dash for freedom, fleeing in the direction of the immigration station.

Fifty feet runners were on his trail, while a crowd watched proceedings from the wharf.

The stowaway was caught before he had gained the business portion of the city.

Captain Zeeder is understood will endeavor to get into wireless communication with the Pacific Mailer Persia, now on the way down from San Francisco. It is his intention to effect the transfer of the five Japanese stowaways in mid ocean, the men to be returned to Yokohama in the Persia.

The sailing of the Siberia from Alakea wharf, promptly at 10 o'clock this morning savored of the nature of a social event of the first magnitude.

A delegation of Honolulu's aristocracy jostled elbows with the hol polloi, unmindful of the crowding. Millionaires and immigrants struggled for a place on the wharf or a viewpoint at one of the many windows.

One hundred and twenty-five cabin passengers were accommodated in the spacious Siberia. The stowage department was obliged to take care of a hundred or more Spanish and Portuguese who left the islands for the mainland before them by the cost labor agents.

Th Siberia carried a large mail. The Royal Hawaiian band played a pleasing serenade. Flowers and tears were features of the spectacular leave taking of the passenger.

FEMININE OPIUM ARMAMENT FOR SMUGGLER A PUZZLE

Mrs. M. S. Taylor, former stewardess of the Monrovia and returning to Honolulu on the Wilhelmina March 18 to answer to a charge of smuggling opium into this port, has given the local authorities more than a little trouble in issuing the proper warrants for her arrest and return to this city. The case is as curious as one as has come up in a long time. When the U. S. marshal discovered that Mr. Taylor was alleged to have smuggled the opium, she was already on her way to San Francisco. He at once cabled the San Francisco office notifying them of the charge against the woman and also of the fact that a bench warrant, made out in this city, would be mailed at once to San Francisco. Upon the information contained in the cable, the U. S. commissioner in San Francisco met Mrs. Taylor at the wharf. He was then in a quandary as to her arrest, however, since the bench warrant issued in Honolulu had not yet reached him. He then discovered that, upon information received in the cable, he could swear out a commissioner's warrant and in this way detain Mrs. Taylor. The bench warrant, made out in Honolulu, finally reached the San Francisco office and thereupon Mrs. Taylor was discharged from the commissioner's warrant and re-arrested upon the warrant made out here. She will be accompanied on the journey from San Francisco to Honolulu by the U. S. Marshal of San Francisco, like Samuel D. Hauman, the Seattle merchant. Mrs. Taylor is alleged to be in the international ring organized for the sole purpose of smuggling opium, and her trial promises to be a sensational one.

M'DUFFIE LANDS HIS MAN

David Kaiaup is awaiting a hearing at the lower court, charged with having been implicated in the series of robberies in upper Nuuanu valley, among which the premises of the Oahu Country Club is alleged to have been visited and the cash register rifled.

According to Chief of Detective McDuffie, who effected the arrest, the man has confessed to his participation in one or more of the robberies, besides implicating several others in the matter.

It is predicted that several youth will be placed under arrest, with a prospect of spending some time at the reformatory.

Articles of association of the Waialua Spring Water Works Company, a corporation formed for the purpose of selling and producing soda water, were filed this morning at the office of the territorial treasurer. The capital stock of the company has been divided into 100 shares of $50 each, making a total capitalization of $5000. There are some twenty stockholders, all Japanese.

OFFICIALS SPEND MUCH MONEY ON AUTOS

"That ought to be excellent grounds for an investigation by the newspapers," commented Speaker Holstein aloud as the summary of a communication from Territorial Auditor Fisher, showing the automobile expenses of the various government departments, was read in the house this morning.

Auditor Fisher, in compliance with H. R. 64, calling for a list of the automobile expenditures of the different departments during the last eighteen months, submitted a bulky volume of figures giving these figures in detail, up to December, 1913.

They show that the total amount spent by territorial officials on autos, auto repairs and upkeep during that period to have been $29,823.17. Of this amount $11,880.20 went into the purchase of new cars and $17,942.97 for running expenses. By department the items are tabulated as follows:

Board of health, $5,134.53; board of agriculture, $4,503.18; loan fund, $10,570.70; water works and sewers, $1,671.60; public works, $3,259.64; special income tax fund, $2,210.94; other taxes, $2,472.53.
